

NEW MANAGEMENT ADDITION TO AEROSPACE AND MARINE INTERNATIONAL

---

San Jose CA and Banchory UK -

Aerospace & Marine International (AMI) a marine weather service company providing support to the shipping, offshore and towing industries is pleased to announce the addition of a new member to its management team - Vice President of Sales, Mike Porreca.

AMI is excited to have Mr. Porreca, a proven professional who will help guide the company's continued growth.

"Mike Porreca is an enormous asset to the Aerospace and Marine International team," said founder and CEO George Carlsgaard. "His experience and knowledge in the marine services and weather risk management space provide an important facet to our management team."

Mike brings 30 years of experience in the areas of sales and management. As Vice President of Sales for AMI, Mike is charged with overseeing business development and sales strategies, pursuing new opportunities within the company's core markets, and managing the existing client base, while working in close concert with AMI's global sales force.

"Aerospace and Marine International has positioned itself to provide a best of class suite of marine weather services" said Mike. "These offerings, combined with AMI's reputation, experience and momentum in the ocean shipping, tow and offshore markets create a combination that will move AMI to a new level."

Prior to Aerospace and Marine International, Mike was National Sales Director for Weathernews where his duties included North and South America sales and client management. Prior to Weathernews Mike was Senior Business Development Manager for Unisys Weather Information Services and Weather Systems Sales Manager for Alden Electronics Inc.
